Splendidly Rendered Highly Appreciated Was Sunday's Concert

The large auditorium on the Seminary campus was packed last Sunday afternoon with nearly 3,000 people for the 49th annual Sacred Concert of Music participated in by over 1,000 students of the Northfield Seminary and Mount Hermon School, all under the baton of Melvin Gallagher, choral director of the schools.

The hymns were in the tradition of the religious background of the institutions, such as "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross" and "Eternal Father." The various groups that sang numbers, besides the combined chorus, were the Estey Choir, the A Cappella Choir, and the combined choirs. The program was published in last week's Press.

Solos were given by the following students: Miss Jan Domin Gladys Greenup, Helen Lindley, Karen Morrill, C. Asenath White, and Herbert Beizer. The combined orchestras were directed by Paul Ivory, while the accompanists were Miss Marian Keller and Carlton W. L'Honnmedieu.

The program included the London Symphony No. 2 in D Major by Joseph Hayden, "America" by Thesaurus Musicus; "Glorious Forever" by Serge Rachmaninoff, arranged by Arthur Shepherd. "My Heart Ever Faithful" by J. S. Bach was sung by the Seminary Choirs. "Laudamus" by William Owen was sung by the Hermon Choir. The A Cappella Choir sang "Clap Your Hands" by F. Melius Christiansen, "My Jesus, Who Didst Give," melody by Pyrrmon harmonized by Winfred Douglas; "Ye Sons and Daughters of the King" by Volcmar Leisinger; "Spring Bursts Today" by Geoffrey Shaw; "The World Itself is Blithe and Gay," a German melody arranged by Ralph E. Marrott.

The Seminary choir sang "Ride on, Ride on" by Graham George. "Sing Alleluia Forth" by Eric Thuman. "For All Who Watch" was sung by a group of selected singers, which was followed by the "Hymn of Freedom" by Thuman. "The Northfield Benediction" concluded the program.

Station WHAI of Greenfield broadcast one hour of the program over the radio.

Major Flower Dies County Command Officer

Major Harold H. Flower, in command of the seven companies of the State Guard in Franklin county, of which the Northfield company is one, died at the Farn Memorial hospital on Friday morning of last week after a protracted illness at the age of 64 years. He was a military expert and had been connected with military affairs for the past 37 years. He began his career with Co. L of Greenfield as a private, advancing to a Lieutenant and then to Captain in the regular army during the first World War. In 1919, after organizing the State Guard company in Greenfield and serving as its Captain, he became Major and was in command of the Guard organizations in the county. He was a lawyer by profession and maintained an office in Greenfield. He was born in Ashfield January 13, 1879, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Flower. He attended Sanderson academy and Williston Seminary and was graduated from Harvard in 1901. Beside his wife, he is survived by a daughter, a son, and a sister. A private military funeral with services was held on Sunday at Hodgins Funeral Parlor in charge of Capt. Bailey of Co. L of the State Guards. Rev. John E. Whitman of St. James Episcopal church officiated. The ashes will be interred in Green River cemetery.

Dean Brown Speaker Hermon Commencement

It has just been publicly announced that Dean Charles R. Brown, Emeritus of Yale Divinity school, has been invited to make the address at the commencement exercises of Mount Hermon school, when the graduation of the class of 1943 takes place. Commencement day will be Monday, June 14th. Dean Brown is no stranger to Northfield, in fact he is a frequent visitor, and his addresses are always listened to with keen interest and strict attention.

Dean Brown was educated at the University of Iowa, Boston University, and Yale, before receiving the Deanship of the Divinity school in 1911, he lectured at Stanford, Cornell, Harvard, Columbia, and the University of North Carolina. In addition to his academic work, he has written a great many religious books and articles.

Fine Weather And Sun Smiles On Sem Students For Colorful Pageant

Sally Ann Gibson of Ithaca, New York, was the May Queen crowned at the Seminary Tree Day Festival last Saturday which drew hundreds of people to the greensward between Perry Pond and the athletic field where the colorful event took place. The sunshine increased the gorgeous colors of the costumes, and the green of the grass. The silvery sheen reflected on the placid waters of Perry Pond, made for a perfect setting for the "Toy Shop," which was the title of the pageant, an adaptation from a previous performance written by Martha Riggs in 1939.

With hushed "Oh" the 500 girls of the Seminary and the many parents assembled, greeted the first sight of the May Queen, whose identity was a secret, she having been elected by the girls of the Senior class, and their verdict sealed.

More than 200 girls took part in the exercises the climax of three months of arduous work, amidst many interruptions due to inclement weather. The procession which began at three o'clock reached its high point when the Queen's retinue appeared. In this royal court were Marjorie Burton, Eleanor Farnsworth, Flavia Wagner, Wynne Mackay, Peggy Martin, Betty Jean Purrington, Barbara Schott, Polly Shedd, Christine Sherman, Sally Sutton, and Mary Ullman.

Those who directed and assisted in the training of the performance were Donna McKinley, Catherine Roberts, and Charlotte Porters of the physical education department; Clarice Carpenter Marguerite Linginger, Mrs. Ethel R. May, Mabel Darrah, Elsie Crowninshield, Marjorie Wormelle, H. Louise Kingsbury.

Following the pageant President Betty Jean Purrington of the Senior class delivered the spade oration, and the acceptance speech was made by Jane Widdoes.

Gas Protection Talk At Alexander Hall

This Friday evening, May 21 at Alexander Hall at the High school, Miss Elsie Scott, instructor of the courses with Gene Cullen on protection against gas, will conclude the sessions, which have been studying for the past several weeks, under the sponsorship of the local Civilian Defense committee. There will be a guest speaker, Captain Ackerman of the Greenfield Fire department, who himself has received special instruction on the subject and conducts several classes in the identification of war gases, the protective measures to be used and the methods of decontamination. He will demonstrate the use of the gas mask, explain other matters and answer questions. All citizens who are interested in defense matters are invited to attend and it is hoped that members of the Civilian Defense Corps in this town, with members of the First-aid classes, the Motor Corps, the Home-nursing members and others affiliated with the various activities will arrange to attend.

Mrs. Lulu V. Horne

Death came to Mrs. Lulu V. (Holbrook) Horne last Sunday at the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George McEwan on Main street. She was 87 years of age and had been ill but a short time. She was born in Savannah, N. Y., December 5, 1856, and was the widow of Irving Horne of Holyoke where they had resided for fifty years. She came to Northfield about five years ago to make her home with her daughter. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. McEwan, one brother, Lewis H. Holbrook of Springfield, two grandchildren, Miss Ruth McEwan of Washington, and Miss Jean McEwan of Northfield; five nephews and one niece.

Funeral services were held in Holyoke on Tuesday afternoon at the Martin Funeral chapel, with Rev. Edward C. Dahl of the local Congregational church officiating and burial was in the Forestdale cemetery in Holyoke.

Money For A "Jeep"

Mount Hermon school students with those of the Seminary are combining in an effort to raise enough money, in the sale of War Bonds and Stamps to buy a "Jeep". The campaign has been under way for the past two weeks and its success is already assured. From their limited allowances the students are proving their loyalty and patriotism to the nation by supporting its efforts.

THE JAPANESE "SUB" WHICH WILL BE SEEN HERE

The "Sub" Will Surely Visit Here Everybody Out To See It Pass Thru Next Wednesday Morning Rain Or Shine

Chairman Frank Pearsall, of the Northfield War Savings Committee, has been notified that the two-man Jap Suicide Submarine will leave Greenfield at ten o'clock next Wednesday morning (May 26), en route to Keene, N. H. Crossing French King bridge, it will proceed north on Route 63 from Millers Falls.

Despite its 94 ft. length and weight of nearly forty tons, the "sub" has a way of making good time on the road and is expected to reach Northfield between 10:30 and 10:45 o'clock. Although it has not been possible, up to the time of our going to press, to schedule a formal stop in Northfield, there is reason to believe that the "sub" will at least hesitate for five minutes or so in front of the High School and Spencer Bros. Garage.

Residents of Northfield may be assured that the absence of a scheduled stop in no way indicates a lack of appreciation on the part of the Treasury Department of the splendid record of this community in the sale of war bonds and of the schools in the sale of war savings stamps. The tremendous pressure under which this tour of the "sub" is conducted may be realized from the fact that it could spend only one day in Boston and that it was forced to divide one day between Fitchburg and Worcester; another day between Springfield, Holyoke, and Northampton.

At all events residents of our town who find themselves along Main Street between 10:30 and 11 o'clock next Wednesday morning will see history in the making when the first submarine to cruise up Pioneer Valley goes by. They will also get a new realization of the brutal savagery from which they help to save us all by the regular purchase of war bonds and stamps.

All flags out and flying from one end of Main Street to the other next Wednesday. The "sub" will have an escort of police and accompanied by officials including Deputy Edward M. Powell of this town.

Tin Can Campaign Nets Town Small Sum

A final report has been made of the first tin can salvage effort in which several Franklin county towns co-operated and among them was Northfield. The local work of collecting and forwarding the cans was done by Luckey O. Clapp of the Salvage committee. They were taken to Greenfield and with the total accumulations of the towns were loaded on cars and shipped by freight to the smelters.

The amount of money received was $502.79 and Northfield's share was $23.07 for a shipment of 5,910 pounds. The towns participating in the collections were Greenfield, Deerfield, Montague, Shelburne Falls, Mount Hermon and Northfield. Mount Hermon received $10.63 for 2,700 lbs. Another tin can collection will be undertaken later and our citizens are urged to accumulate them, cut out the ends, flatten them and to be sure they are clean, rinse them in water. A worthwhile collection will be of aid for governmental use and purposes.

Memorial Day Plans Now Being Arranged

Memorial Day will again be fittingly observed in Northfield and the committee in charge, consisting of Edgar J. Livingston, Harold F. Bigelow and Max L. Huber are completing the arrangements which will be announced in detail in next week's issue of the Press. The parade and ceremonies will be held on Sunday afternoon, May 30, and not on Monday, owing to the fact that men and women employed in the war production must remain at their work. The parade will start from the High school at 3 o'clock and proceed to the Center cemetery where the usual program will follow.

Graduates With Honor

Miss Beverly C. Briemaster daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Briemaster, was graduated last week from the St. John's Hospital (Episcopal) School of Nursing in Brooklyn, N. Y. She was awarded a twenty-five dollar prize for proficiency in nursing. Mr. and Mrs. Briemaster and New York relatives were present at the ceremony and reception which followed. A supper party was given in her honor by Mrs. L. S. Gray of New York. Miss Briemaster is now at home at Valley Vista Inn for a vacation.

Neils Neilson Called To Assume Pastorate Of Montague Church

Neils Neilson, who is a divinity student at Yale Divinity school and who for the past year has given a valuable service as a student assistant with the local Congregational church, especially in charge of the Sunday school and services at Northfield Farms, has accepted a call, voted by the congregation of the Montague Congregational church to become its pastor and will take up his duties on June 1st. He will devote his whole time to the parish during the summer but in the fall will take up his studies at Yale in addition to his work. He will succeed the Rev. Paul Battenhouse who had resigned.

Mr. Neilson has done a fine work in Northfield and his many friends will regret his departure but follow his future career with a continuing interest. Mr. Neilson came to this town with good recommendations from his church at Long Beach, Calif. He is a graduate of George Pepperdine college and has concluded his first year at Yale Divinity school. He has been closely associated with the Rev. Edward C. Dahl in the work of the local church. Mr. Neilson is licensed to preach and his ordination will follow his graduation. Members of the State Guard will be out in military maneuvers to meet enemy invaders represented by troops of the regular army and all air-raid wardens, firemen, police, nurses, canteen workers, first aid and ambulance crews will assemble and probably "incidents" will follow. The exact time of the day is not known but all persons will give heed and due diligence to the signals when given. The conduct of local observance is in the hands of George McEwan, chairman of local Civilian Defense. As a guide to our citizens, the Press again publishes in this issue the explanation of the various alarms.

C. V. Crossing Crash Lower Meadow Street Truck Hit By Train

On Friday afternoon of last week shortly before five o'clock Andrew Barczeski, employed by the Seminary in farm work, had ceased his labor and in a small pick-up truck was going to his garden on the meadowland down Meadow street, to look after his planting, when instantly on the Central Vermont railroad crossing he was struck by a double header freight going south. The engine squarely hit the truck, carrying it some 60 feet below the crossing. He lingered until Saturday morning at 8 o'clock when he died. Deputy Sheriff Martin E. Vorcoe was called to the scene and investigated. No one was found who had seen the accident, but neighbors had seen him passing down Meadow street and had heard the engine whistle. The freight train was stopped by the engineer after the crash and the crew treated the man until the arrival of the doctor. Whether the man stalled his car on the crossing or tried to pass over before the freight reached the place is not known. Barczeski came to Northfield last January and married Mrs. Anna Luciw of East Street, where they resided. Formerly he had lived in Hartford and Sunderland where he was employed as a farmer.

Funeral services were held Monday in the Holy Ghost Ukrainian church in South Deerfield with a requiem high mass celebrated by Rev. D. A. Redkovich. Burial was in the Holy Ghost cemetery at Whately. Two Red Cross Motor Corps cars transported the family to the services. On Monday afternoon T. F. Darby of the C. V. Railroad and a member of the State police made an official investigation.

Sunday Speakers

The speaker at the morning service in Sage Chapel on Sunday, will be Dr. John Homer Miller of the Hope Congregational church in Springfield. The service will begin at 11 a. m. At the 5 o'clock vesper service the new cabinet of the Northfield Seminary church will be installed. Chaplain Harold B. Ingalls has announced that the officers for 1943-44 include Olive Thurman of Washington, D. C., chairman; Millicent Alenby of Falmouth, Mass., clerk; and Alice Fletcher, White Plains, N. Y., treasurer. Communion service will follow the installation ceremony.

INFLUENCE

Once only in the vast circle of time
Shall I move 'mid these scenes
So cherished;
But deeds that I do, poor or sublime,
Shall stand 'till the world hath perished.
Shall stand! And faces I never shall see,
And lives that I cannot guess,
Shall be faithful or false because of me,
Shall curse the world—or bless.
Think! I! So weak and frail and small,
This deathless power am given,
That by word or deed a host may fall
Or a legion be raised to Heaven.

LOOKING AT SEEDS

These packages enclose a little world
As yet unborn. Within them lie rich hues,
And lovely shapes, and fragrance still unfurled.
Awaiting sunlight here, are reds and blues
Of larkspurs raising slender, wind blown towers,
And here, calendulas secrete their gold
In little fists all tightly closed. New flowers
I have not seen await the day when cold
Will vanish. Here, are yellow pearls of corn
Within whose substance future strength is sealed.
From these, huge, red tomatoes will be born,
And here are peas and beans for some wide field.
How many, looking on these seeds, would guess
They hide a partnership in loveliness?

If you serve a ham triangle at your sewing circle luncheon or your next bridge party snack. For these deviled ham surprises are as tasty as the prizes. And each Belle will jingle praises. Be she home-girl, WAVE or WAAC.

Deviled Ham Triangles
2 cups sifted cake flour; 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 5 tablespoons butter or other shortening; 1/4 cup milk; 3 to 4 tablespoons deviled ham.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut in shortening. Add milk all at once and stir carefully until all flour is dampened. Then stir vigorously until mixture forms a soft dough and follows spoon around bowl. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 30 seconds. Roll 1/4 inch thick and cut in 2-inch squares. Spread with deviled ham. Fold squares in half, forming triangles; pinch edges together. Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (450° F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 2 1/2 dozen triangles.

Cookies —
Baby's Delight

By Frances Lee Barton

Do you have a little tot in your home whose "I want a cookie" is a familiar demand? Do you have a grown-up who loves to dunk surreptitiously before retiring? Cookies have been popular since the first grandmother hid the first cookie jar. Human nature never changes. Ask the boys in Service.

Chocolate Chip Molasses Cookies
3 cups sifted cake flour; 1½ teaspoons soda; ¼ teaspoon salt; 1 teaspoon ginger; 1½ teaspoons cinnamon; ½ cup butter or other shortening; 1 cup sugar; 1 egg, unbeaten; ¼ cup molasses; 1 cup sour milk or buttermilk; 1 package semi-sweet chocolate chips; ½ teaspoon vanilla.

Sift flour once, measure, add soda, salt, and spices, and sift together three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, creaming until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well; then add molasses. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, mixing well after each addition. Add chips and vanilla. Chill 1 to 2 hours, or until firm enough to hold shape. Drop from teaspoon on lightly greased baking sheet, placing about 2 inches apart. Bake in hot oven (400° F.) 10 to 15 minutes, or until done. Makes 6 dozen cookies.

Note: Chill cookie dough between bakings, if necessary.

BEANO

Beano is to be outlawed in the State beginning August first. It is and never has been anything but a gambling proposition and in some places went so strong as to become a racket. As a game it proved interesting and enticing but the results left many individuals short of hard earned money. The enthusiasm of winners and the hope of winning by others kept the games alive and going strong, but its influence on character was devastating. Gambling in any form is a bad sport and leaves the majority of its supporters bidding farewell to hard earned cash and a lowering of their morale. The action of the Legislature and the Governor is to be commended in ending the Beano adventure.

WOMEN EXCLUSIVE

A newspaper notation was to the effect that the County Woman's Republican club has held an annual meeting and chosen officers. It was a small meeting with an exclusive coterie that does not spell success in enlisting the cooperation of the women of the party in the county. Either partisanship is dead or there is no interest in the club among women in bolstering the ideals of the Republican party. Time was when there was a good membership in Northfield and considerable activity with enthusiastic meetings, but now there seems to be no concern with no announcement of gatherings, especially in the local newspaper. It will be a difficult matter to bring back the old enthusiasm here if too much exclusiveness prevails.

From Mr. Heeb's Sermon

Speaking on "Good Will in Time of War," Mr. Heeb at the Unitarian church said in part: "What time is it in religion?" is a favorite question among liberals, what time is it for good will in your hearts would be a better one. With the radio and the press filled with conflicting propaganda we are apt to lose our natural good will and our reason, like the man who had 27 clocks and tried to get them to strike at the same time. Hatred and bitterness defeated President Wilson at Paris, at the close of the last war. It can do it again if we are not careful. Madame Chiang's words still ring as she spoke over the radio at Madison Square Garden: "There must be no bitterness in the reconstructed world. No matter what we have undergone and suffered, we must try to forgive those who injured us and remember only the lesson gained thereby." Coming from one who has seen the cruelties of war for five years in China, this statement is the most Christlike word uttered to the world since Christ. We must be careful lest the V for victory, when peace comes be changed to V for vengeance. "Vengeance is mine saith the Lord." No man is great enough to use vengeance. I fear the slogan "unconditional surrender" unless we have in our hearts unconditional good will. Wendell Willkie has a chapter in his book "One World" that every American should read, it is "Our Reservoir of Good Will." The plans for world peace grow in number from day to day. Without the essential good will such as Madame Chiang has shown all plans will fail. Hitler is orking hard every day with his hate and bitterness so he can divide and rule. If we are to keep good will in war time, I think Mr. Hull's good neighbor spirit and his fair trade agreements have basic good will. Again, feeding the starving people of Europe (Senator Gillette and Taft's bill S. R. 100) will create and preserve a reservoir of good will where it is much needed. The world is turning to the churches for help. What it needs desperately is the spirit of good will, free from selfish propaganda. May you have it in your hearts and cherish it in these troubled times. The future needs you and all the good you will have.

LETTERS FROM CAMP

Your toys were always soldiers off to battle
And painted ships and tiny dime-store planes—
Your baby hands would never clutch a rattle;
You had no time for wagons or for trains,
A wee tin hat, a gun, a sword to flourish,
A tank to draw behind you on a string—
These were the toys you liked;
they helped to nourish
A climax that I knew the years would bring.

And now that you're away, you are so gentle;
Your letters question — "Is the larkspur tall,
And has the cat new kittens?"
Incidental
The things you want to know—so soft and small!
"Mother," you ask, "do you still dress in white—
And eat your evening meal by candlelight?"

Memorial Day Recipes

By BETTY BARCLAY

This year women have more cause than usual to worry about "what to serve on a holiday." Rationing and food shortages are with us in full force. Perhaps the following unusual recipes will help a bit. I sincerely hope so.

Fish Savories
2 cups Grape-Nuts Flakes, finely crushed
1 cup flaked cooked white fish
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1/2 teaspoon scraped onion
1 egg, beaten with 4 tablespoons milk and dash of salt
Combine 1 cup Flakes, fish, salt, pepper, onion, and 5 tablespoons egg mixture, mixing well. Shape in 2-inch cakes. Roll in remaining Flakes; then in remaining egg mixture; and roll again in Flakes. Fry in skillet in small amount of fat, browning both sides. Serve with tartare sauce or lemon slices. Makes 6 small savories.

White Gold Salad
1 cup grated raw parsnips
3/4 cup orange sections
1/4 cup shredded tart apple
3/4 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Combine the peeled, grated raw parsnip, orange and apple; chill. Add lemon juice and mayonnaise to the parsnip mixture and mix before serving; mix well. Serves 6.

Know Massachusetts

DO YOU KNOW THAT . . .

Seed companies in Boston report four to five times as much demand for vegetable seeds by home gardeners so far this season as a year ago. . . . The 1940 census showed a total of 21,514 dwelling units in Boston, 533,612 in Metropolitan Boston and 1,221,252 in Massachusetts. During the year of greatest building boom this country has ever known, 1925, the number of new dwelling units built amounted to only about 4 per cent of the existing homes. . . . Weather Bureau records for Boston from January 1 to May 12 this year show an accumulated rainfall deficiency of 1.83 inches below normal and 3.49 inches less than in the same period last year. . . . Total taxable property valuation in Boston is placed at $1,389,432,000; in Worcester $306,566,000; Springfield $276,366,000; Cambridge $184,327,000; Newton $174,560,000; Brookline $154,795,000; Lynn $143,715,000; Quincy $135,063,000. . . . Permits for 44 new buildings providing 1,418 dwelling units at a cost of over $5,000,000 were issued during April for the Federal Housing project in South Boston. . . . Representatives of the State Planning Board met with the newly constituted Planning Board of Stoneham last week to discuss the program for future action.
